TL

1. Claims 1-19 are presented for examination.
2. Applicant is requested to fill blank spaces in the specification.
3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 1 and 11, it is not clear what is the use of the token.

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

6. Claims 1-3, and 10-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Nohmi et al, U.S. Patent No. 5,341,506.

Nohmi et al teaches the invention as claimed in claim 1 including a stream computer (col. 3, line 11), said stream computer comprising:

- (a) a plurality of interconnected functional units (10; col. 3, line 13), each of said functional units responsive to a data stream containing data to be operated on by one or more of said functional units,
- (b) digital logic (18) cooperatively associated with one of said functional units for adding (col. 4, line 66) one or more tokens to said data stream presented to said one of said functional units, said one or more tokens representative of the type of data being generated by said one or more functional units, and further teaches as in claims 2, 3, and 10,

- (c) said data and one or more tokens form said data stream, said digital logic reporting the occurrence of said one or more tokens within said data stream without interrupting said data stream (15, col. 4, line 24); packets arriving are not interrupted) – claims 2 and 3, and
- (d) the plurality of interconnected functional units and said digital logic are integrated on a single substrate (plurality of units in a single chip integration) – claim 10.

The method claims 11-13 are equivalently rejected based on the same reason.

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Nomura et al taught a method of adding tags to data.

Shima et al taught a method of using tags in data packet.

Art Unit: 2111

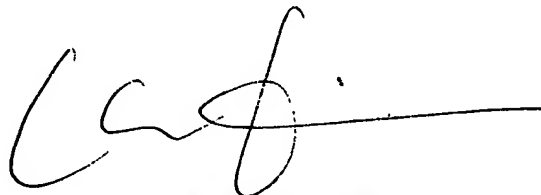

Papadopoulos et al taught a method of using tagged data packet.
